Department of Political science

Session: 2025-26

Name of activity: Elocution Competition

Brief report

The Department of Political Science of C.P. & Berar College successfully organized an elocution competition on 27 November 2025. The objective of the event was to encourage students to develop a deeper understanding of the Indian Constitution while enhancing their public speaking abilities. The themes selected for the competition were two important areas of constitutional study: Fundamental Rights (Articles 12 to 35) and Directive Principles of State Policy (Articles 36 to 51).

The programme was presided over by the Honorable Dr. J. K. Mahajan, Vice-Principal of the college, who guided and motivated the participants with his esteemed presence. Mr. Arun Kumar Sahare attended the event as the Chief Guest, adding value to the function through his insightful thoughts on the significance of constitutional awareness among youth. The competition was meticulously planned and organized under the able leadership of Prof. Sanjay Pusadkar, Head of the Department of Political Science, whose efforts contributed greatly to the successful execution of the programme.

A total twelve students from various classes participated enthusiastically in the competition. Each participant presented a well-prepared speech, showcasing their understanding of the fundamental rights guaranteed to citizens and the guiding principles meant to ensure social and economic justice in the country. The students highlighted various constitutional provisions, explained their relevance in contemporary society, and expressed their personal reflections on the role of these articles in strengthening democracy.

Their speeches demonstrated not only academic knowledge but also critical thinking, confidence, and clarity of expression. The audience appreciated the participants' efforts, and the event proved to be an enriching learning experience for everyone present.

At the conclusion of the competition, the winners were announced and felicitated with cash prizes as a mark of recognition for their outstanding performance. The gesture encouraged the students and motivated others to participate in future academic and co-curricular events.

Overall, the competition was a grand success. It provided a meaningful platform for students to explore constitutional topics, enhanced their communication skills, and reinforced the importance of understanding the core values embedded in the Indian Constitution. The Department of Political Science received appreciation for organizing such an insightful and impactful program.
